Autumn Days

By Heather McFarling

The alarm awakens me with a start. Not even a Friday looks good at six in the morning. But with the realization that the world will not stop just for me, I get out of bed. Getting ready for school is the theme of the household.

Throwing open my closet doors, I lie on the bed to decide what to wear. It seems ironic to me that the fashions of the day are slipping into the past. Girls are wearing suits and tight waisted skirts (like our mothers wore!) I finally decide on a three piece suit from "Casual Corner."

The styles for guys aren't as distinct. Levi's are the universal scene, but there are a few who change into cords or polyester.

Hair styles are all different shapes and sizes. Most of them have moderated to shoulder length being either shaped or kinky. I can be sure to see a variety of feathers and curls, and combs and flowers through the course of the day.

On my way to school, I tune in to K.V.I.L. I'm not in the mood for the Bee Gee's disco; therefore, I turn the station. Exile comes across singing "Kiss You All Over." I survey the scene around me. It is beautiful. The leaves are turning to red and brown hues. The wind is refreshing and a bit chipper.

A drawling disc jockey tells me about the "Yes" concert which was such a smash. But I'm in the mood for music so I switch back to K.V.I.L. Ron Chapman is discussing the fact that John-Paul the Pope died after thirty-three days in office. He goes on to crack a couple of jokes about the Camp David peace talks, which are going well between Egypt and Israel. I'm still waiting for music when he starts making more jokes on the crushing Texas-OU game. This grimly reminds me I have a bet to pay to a happy O.U. fan. As I park my car in the less than spacious parking lot, I finally hear some music; but, too late. I must turn off my car to Foreigner's "Double Vision."

I have to hurry because one of the various tardy bells has rung. Maybe, Mother Wilson will ignore me as I walk through the door.

After attempting to write a composition of some unheard-of subject, I beg Mother Wilson to let me get a drink of water. Strangely enough, I can't find a water fountain and get lost in several classrooms. Roaming like this, I can't help but feel the spirit of a Friday and the coming football game. Although I feel that none can compare to the exciting Rider game. I have never gone through such ups and downs of emotion as I did that Friday. This season has shown good games, but the 13-9 victory over Rider is unforgettable.

Next period is Civics. We are all ready to go to lunch; therefore, nothing is accomplished. Mr. Bason swears Monday will be different.

The bell rings and it's a race to see who can get out of the parking lot first. Pizza Inn is my favorite spot, but Long John Silver's is a nice change of pace. With a satisfied stomach, I return to face the rest of the day. Being a Student Assistant fourth period can really be tough. Luckily today isn't bad. Fifth period art turns out to have no challenge. The day is then over. Now all I have to do is find some way to spend the time until I support the Farmers through another game . . .

SLICES OF LIFE

They are the day to day grind. They are the moments no one ever forgets. They are dressing up in crazy costumes, trying for the hundredth time to understand why $x=y+1$, or dashing to work at 3:30; and yet, they all blend to make days that are bound to be looked back upon with smiling thoughts. (Even if it's to say, "Thank God they're over.") The excitement of Fridays, the "blahness" of Mondays, and the thrill of a long weekend all make being in high school different and special. They are the freshmen getting lost moving from room 202 to room 237, the seniors who know where their classes are but never seem to find them on time, the juniors selling those magazines, and the sophomores finally getting the hang of things. They are the jocks with their blue jeans and ties (of course, their three piece suits with tennis shoes). They are the occasional lighting of 3,000 sheets of toilet paper floating from a third floor window, the discovery that there just isn't one more parking space, or the announcement that a blue Chevrolet with license number JKL-880 has its lights on (and it's snowing). They are getting an extra two minutes in between classes trying to explain why leaving at 3:30 to get tickets to something called Queen is so vitally important to human existence, or how a hangnail makes writing impossible without unbearable pain. They are the first cold football game, the first barefoot weather day, counting the hours until Christmas vacation (in August). Yet, when it is all over, would we have missed it? Each quiet moment, each time you thought you would surely scream, and each time you felt the pride of hearing the school song played, the slides of life are captured and put away to be treasured always.

Picture Identification: Alex Buck (upper left) doesn't let the worries of school get to him while K.C. Rogers (left) takes a "rest" after building the bonfire. (opposite page) (clockwise) sees farmer spirit as being bigger than life. Tracy Farley shares one of the most exciting moments of her year with the crowd at the pep rally while Kyle Frazier is slightly less than awed with Merlin Chew's portrayal of a great Roman.

TIMES

Homecoming '78 was spectacular. Lewisville "Lynched the Friars" 48-21 and Marsha Saunders was crowned queen with the band and drill team showing their finest. Homecoming, however, isn't a one night affair. All week the classes, football team, cheerleaders, band and drill team worked to make that night special.

From the community pep rally to the bonfire, from the parade to the social in the courtyard, the true Farmer Spirit finally emerged. Students, teachers and Exes alike all agree that Homecoming '78 was a special night for one and all.

The bonfire grows by the minute as the Juniors show their winning float. Janice Eidd leads the Farmerettes for the halftime show. Homecoming Queen Marsha Saunders radiates with happiness as her sister Cindy watches proudly. Mums are everywhere at the pep rally. Mimi George, Jerri Threlkeld and Neva Parrot are excited about the game. "The Band That Marches with Pride" begins the 1978 Homecoming parade.

You Are What You Eat

by Brady Giesler

I bet God has a really good time where he is. He has a 50-yardline seat to see everything that happens around here. I bet he gets a good laugh every day at lunch time. The first bell is similar to the starting bell at the Bellmont Stakes. One thousand screaming bodies converge on seven five-foot doors creating the sensation of stuffing an orangutan into a one-size-fits-all pair of pantyhose. Then everyone runs to the parking lot so they can fool the befuddled security man with a fake ID that says this 5'1" fifteen-year-old is 6'3" and 18 years old. From here it's a mad dash to the Barf Burger or the Terrible Taco. There they gorge themselves on fast-food with such catchy names as the burrito blimp and freaky french fries (complete with blue ketchup). After this, it's the sprint to the home stretch, where, once back at school, after eating five pounds of food in ten minutes, everyone remarks, "Boy, that was good. Where do you want to eat tomorrow?"

OUT ON THE TOWN

by Michelle Thomason

We all like to have a good time when we get out on the town. And what better place to go than Dallas?

Strobe lit dance floors and high rise restaurants are the main attractions whether we are out with the gang or someone special.

Going out isn't Levis and Big Mac's anymore. This s the era of classy satins and tailored tweeds, while "Chilis" has replaced the local parking lot.

Along with the eating, music is another source of entertainment so concerts rate high on the list of things to do. Hours are spent waiting in line to secure tickets to see everybody from Willie and Waylon to Boston and the Commodores.

Dallas is a city full of life and energy; a place where we can go each weekend to dance the hours away, or relax in the quiet atmosphere of a favorite romantic restaurant.

It is a place where we can go, making memories as we enjoy ourselves, our friends, and our youth.

DEDICATION

The Proof is Her Way

A day in the life of Glynda Walker shows there is more to dedication (of a yearbook) than play (the Senior type). It is learning; it is giving; it is sharing. These and more are Glynda Walker. But even so, we bet she's never speech—less.

THE CLASS OF GLYNDA WALKER
SCENE I

This scene represents a typical day in the class of Glynda Walker. She teaches English II, English II Honors, English IV (Seniors!), and, in the past, even Speech. In addition, she helps students with Speech and Drama tournaments and has been the sponsor of the Senior play for the past five years (Whew!). In her spare time, she enjoys softball, playing her guitar, and riding her horse, Red Man. Or, maybe these activities are simply meant to preserve her sanity.

In any case, because of her five years of working well with students, staying involved, and possessing and showing a good sense of humor in the face of a student, the 1979 Annual Staff dedicates this yearbook to Glynda Walker.

Miss Walker has a way of captivating her students with her childhood stories. Her classes range from slightly amusing to roaring hilarity, and oft times in-between. This is one of those days . . .

(Walker in front of class which has just begun)

Walker: Today we are going to read one of my favorite stories.

Boy-In-Back: You say that about all the stories we read!

Walker (smiling): Well, this is one of my most favorite. I really get wound up in it.

Girl: You got really wound up about the others, too!

Walker: I get even more excited about this one. I really start talking about it. You'll have to stop me —

Boy-In-Back: Ms. Walker, Can I get a drink?

Walker: I don't know. Can you?

Boy-In-Back (chuckle): Yeah. (Exits)

(Walker starts speaking when Mr. Swearingen enters holding Boy-In-Back)

Swearingen: Miss Walker.

Walker (turns — then immediately): Comrade!

Swearingen: I found this child wandering in the hall outside your door. He claims to be yours.

Walker: Mine?

Swearingen: You deny it?

Walker: Well . . .

Swearingen: Ve haf vays of makink you talk!

Walker: Of course he's mine.

Swearingen (Exiting): That's what I thought.

Walker (As with a whip): Back! Back to your chair!

(Boy-In-Back goes back to chair. Class laughs.)

Walker: Now, seriously folks . . . where was I?

Girl: Your most favorite story.

Walker: That's right. If I can just remember what it is!

— H. M.

There's never a dull moment around Glynda Walker. Whether it's an "eventful" English IV class (thank you Polly Koehler) or a quick stop by the lounge, something is always going on. Maybe all this energy is the reason she makes being a teacher something special.

We are the Frosh..

The Class of '82'

Being the biggest class we feel we are the most spirited class to hit LHS. It is a change being the youngest after being the "Top Dogs" in middle school. We are looking forward to being upper classmen and having our way for a change but for now, getting to know our way around and getting to know more people is enough to keep most of us busy. We are getting older everyday and after making the most noise at the Pep Rally we showed everyone we're here to stay.

Kim Kalina is having fun at school (top left). While Dwayne Bryant says, "Erase What?" (top right) Beverly Gibson wonders if she is in the right place (middle left). Work! Work! Work! Ronnie Ernest learns what high school is about (middle right) while Greg McKinney studies into it (bottom left). David Martin skips a "Siesta" for the Pep Rally (bottom middle). As Wendy Turner can't believe some of the things she hears around here (bottom right).

The Beginning

Our First Step

We are the Sophs...

The class of '81.

We're the in-between class. We're sorry we're not Juniors, we're glad we're not Freshmen. We are the second largest class at L.H.S. . . . But we are second to the bottom in power. (Thank goodness for the Fish.)

We are devoted to two football teams, the Junior Varsity and the Sophomore teams.

Most of us learn to drive this year and have our first wrecks, too. We try to sneak past Mr. Nations to go out to lunch. Sometimes we make it and sometimes we don't. But all in all, it's been super as Sophomores!

(upper left) Anita Carpenter gets caught again. (upper right) Don't worry, Jess Sandifer, as Ms. Walker says, "Remember that your reason for reading the book at all is to learn something from it, not just to have read it. The Greeks had a word for people who read a lot but understood only a little: Sophomores. Cindy Sorensen (middle left) and Bill Koeninger (middle right) get a laugh out of things at L.H.S. as Ginny Germann dreams of being a star. Tom Francis gets a drink while Christi Freeman salutes a great sophomore year. (bottom right). Opposite Page: Soph's sing school song at the last pep rally. (middle) Pam Spillman, Susan McEver, and Vicki Galik try their gymnastic skills. Sophomore Homecoming Dutchess, Michael Schmidt, watches the Pep Rally while Marilyn Burel "jams down". (bottom) Soph's show their spirit.

Sophomores: On the Way Up

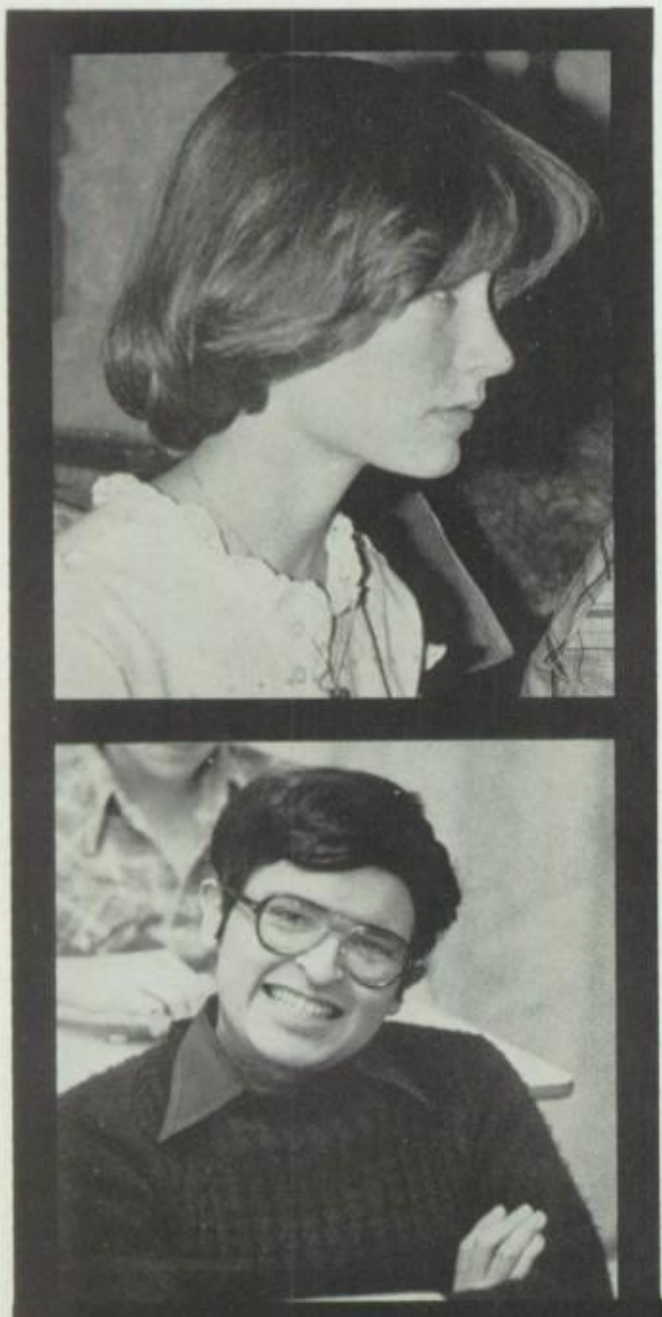
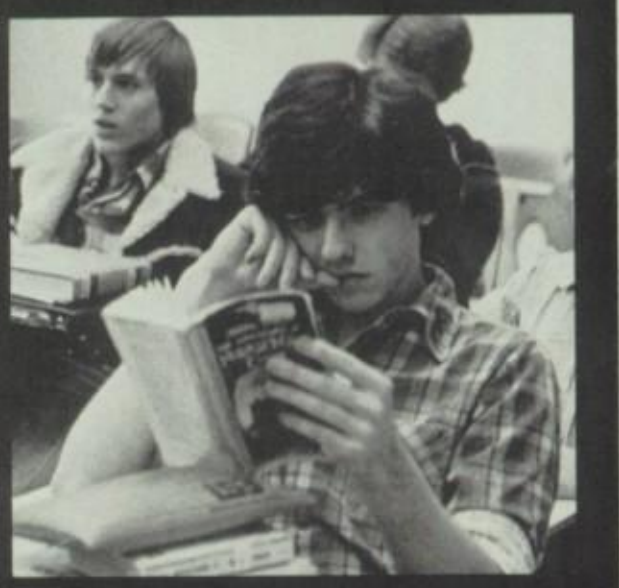
We are the Juniors..

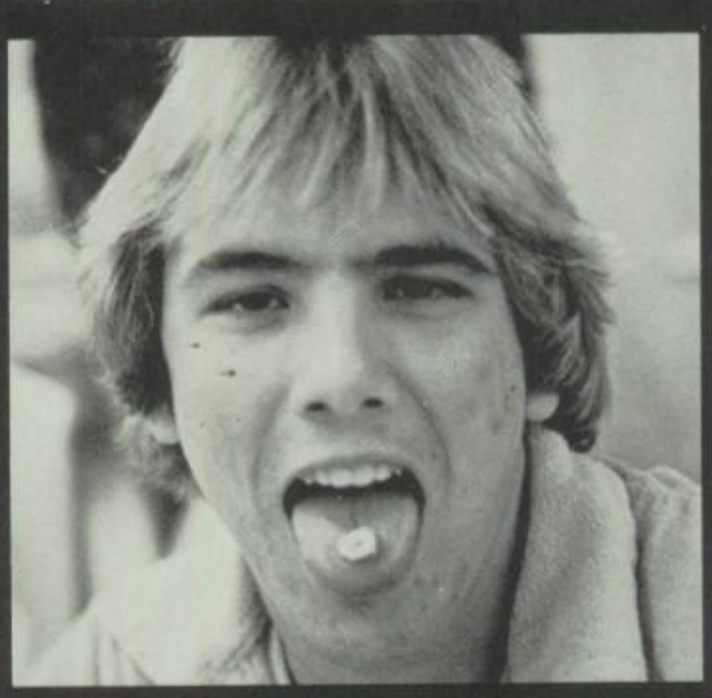


One of our biggest responsibilities is putting together the Junior-Senior prom. We're in charge of raising the money and deciding where it's going to be held. For a while, some people thought our prom was going to be in the cafeteria, but as it turned out we came through (thank you, Mr. Mac).

Being a junior is also the time to pick out senior rings, take the PSAT and start planning for college. It's the time for our first term paper and finally our last year of required English.

A big accomplishment of the junior class this year was winning the Homecoming float. Our float was something to be proud of. After all, it beat the seniors.





Opposite Page: Diane Bradford looks ahead, while Claretha Brown must have something to smile about (top l-r). Danny Delcarpio enjoys Mrs. Cobb's English class, as Mike Harcow takes time out to read a book. Rita White is caught off guard, and Jeff Ramsey acts his typical self, while Cindy Myers devotes some time to the winning float. The junior favorites for this year are Carmen Exum and Clay Flanagan (top left), while the honor of homecoming duchess goes to Cindy Saunders. The class officers are from left: Karen Pavlet, Vice-President: Denise Johnson, Secretary: Rory Durham, President and Tricia Lettieri, Treasurer.

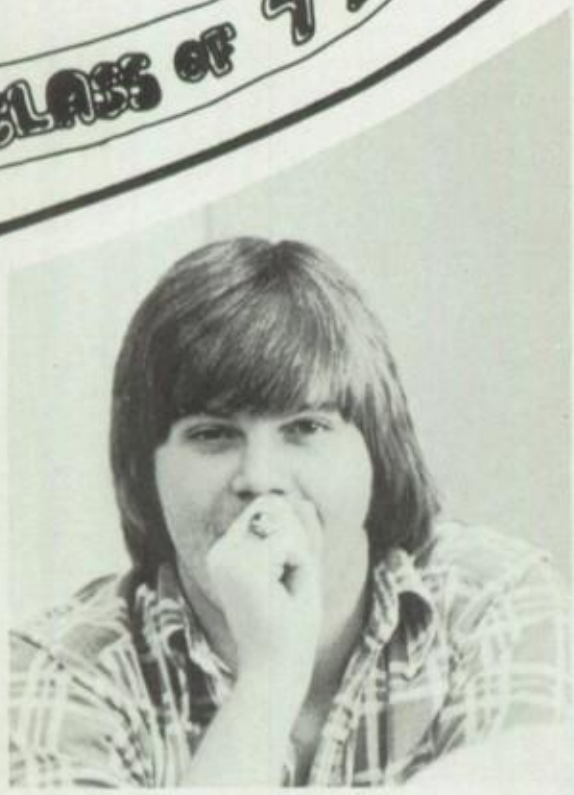
CLASS OF 79



SENIORS

We are the class of '79. As freshmen we thought high school would never end. Now as seniors, the end of our high school days draw to a close. We are a class that has been touched by both triumph and tragedy. Who can forget the pride we had after the Farmers won the district championship or the excitement of having the Prom at the Hyatt Regency. We also remember the loss of several of our class members and the pain we felt. Our class carried on certain traditions and ended others. The band and drill team continued to be rated at the top, while for the first time in history graduation ceremonies were held at NTSU.

WE MADE

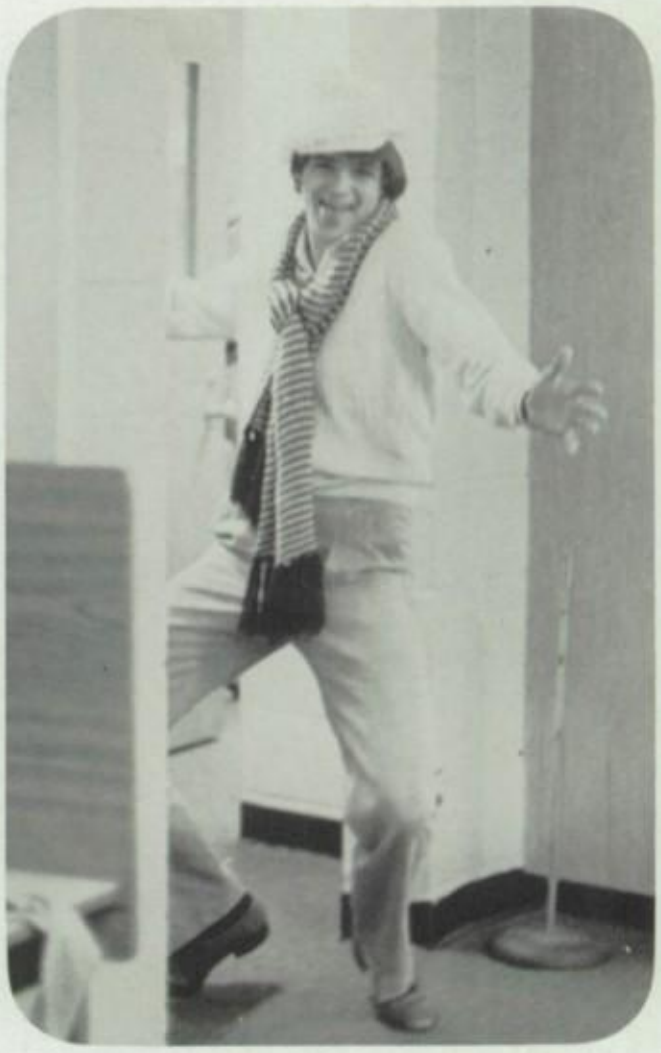
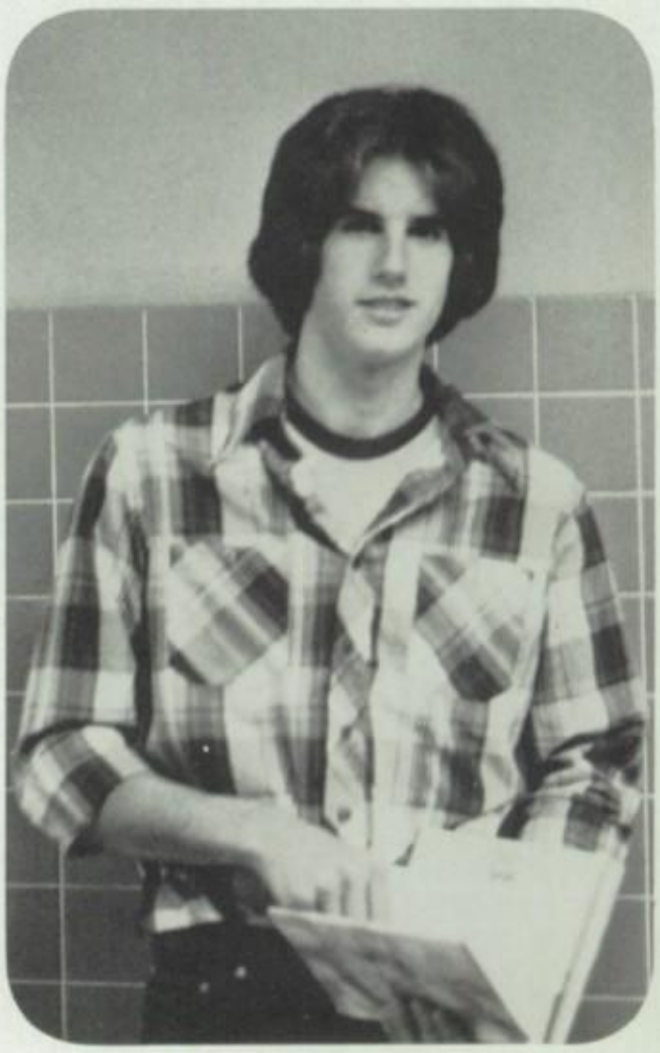
SEN IORS SENIORS SENIORS SENIORS





Seniors express a feeling of relief on the homecoming float while Sean Moore acts like a wild and crazy guy. Jim Weber and Mike Burton revert back to their childhood as seniors are well represented at the bonfire and Robert Ellison takes a few minutes out of his busy schedule to study.

(top left) A number of seniors take part in a togo party. While (top right standing l-r) Michelle Thomason, Keith Collinsworth, Marjorie Head, KC Rogers, (sitting l-r) Chuck Hagood and Brent Giesler guard the Spirit Bell, (middle left) Jama Hinson takes part in the rock-a-thon while (middle right) hats off to Greg Carrera who was DJ at this year's only social. (bottom left) 78-79 Homecoming Court: Duchess Sue Legge, escort Mike Petipas, Queen Marsha Saunders, escort James Brown, Duchess Tracy Farley and escort Jody Hinkle.

Maroon Madness

This year in more ways than one has been the year of the Fighting Farmers. Everyone got excited and to top it off the Farmers were District Champs! Through it all everyone stuck together and for the first time in a long time there was pride in Lewisville High. We could say "Lewisville # 1" and truly mean it. We were proud to be Fighting Farmers.

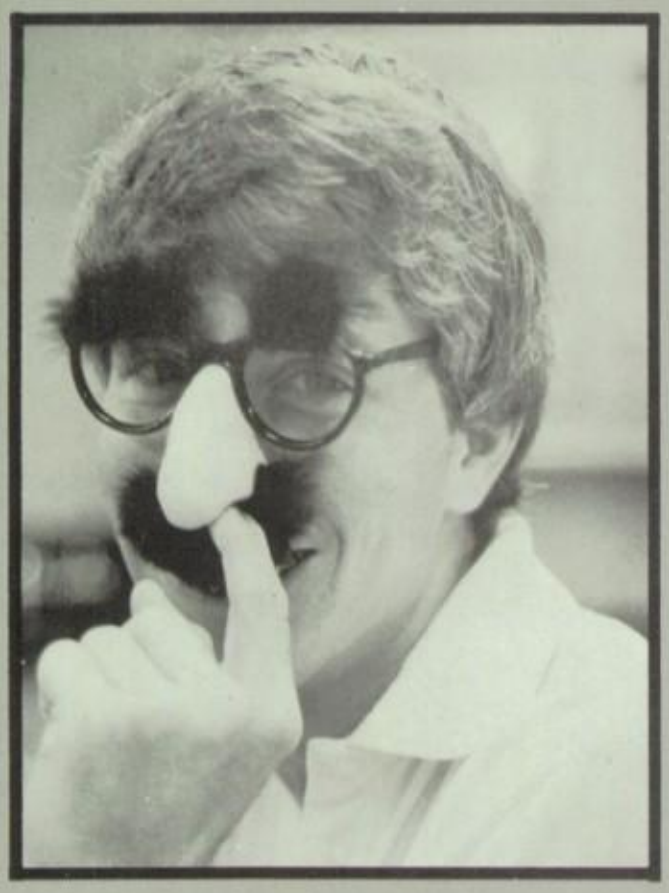
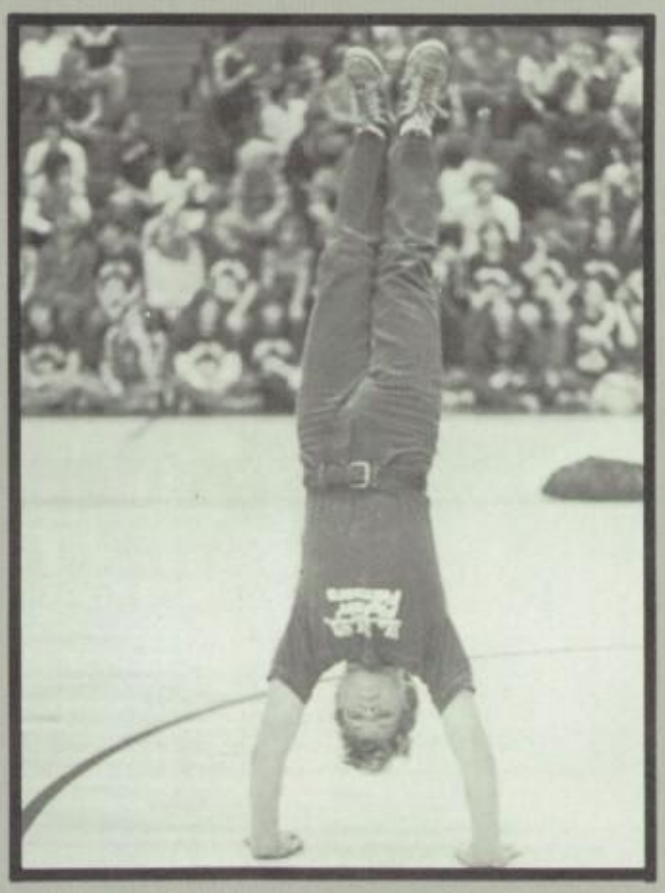
Big John Is Movin' On





Winning has a positive effect on everyone. You get caught up in spirit and before long showing your spirit isn't dumb because everybody is doing it. On Fridays everyone wore Farmer Frenzy t-shirts, crazy socks, sunglasses or a hat. Pep rallies became more involved and held more meaning because all of a sudden we were winners again.

In the beginning, Farmer Fever was warm but as the year went on everyone caught the fever and it began to boil. With a championship on the line, it started with the Rider game and after that it seemed contagious. Not only was the student body involved but so was the whole community. Then the Bi-District game rolled around and a near 4000 made the trip to Abilene. Looking back, we remember the bond that tied the school together — the spirit of L.H.S. that makes us sure: We've got Spirit!

Spirit, Pride, Hard Work . . .

For the 40 girls in the drill team, spirit and dedication is only the beginning. It takes late afternoon practices and hard work to produce standing ovations after the night's performance. At the close of football season, the hard work continues as competition time grows closer. Through the smiles, anxieties and nervousness, the qualities of a farmerette are present. It becomes all worthwhile. A true farmerette is a girl who has pride and believes in what she does.

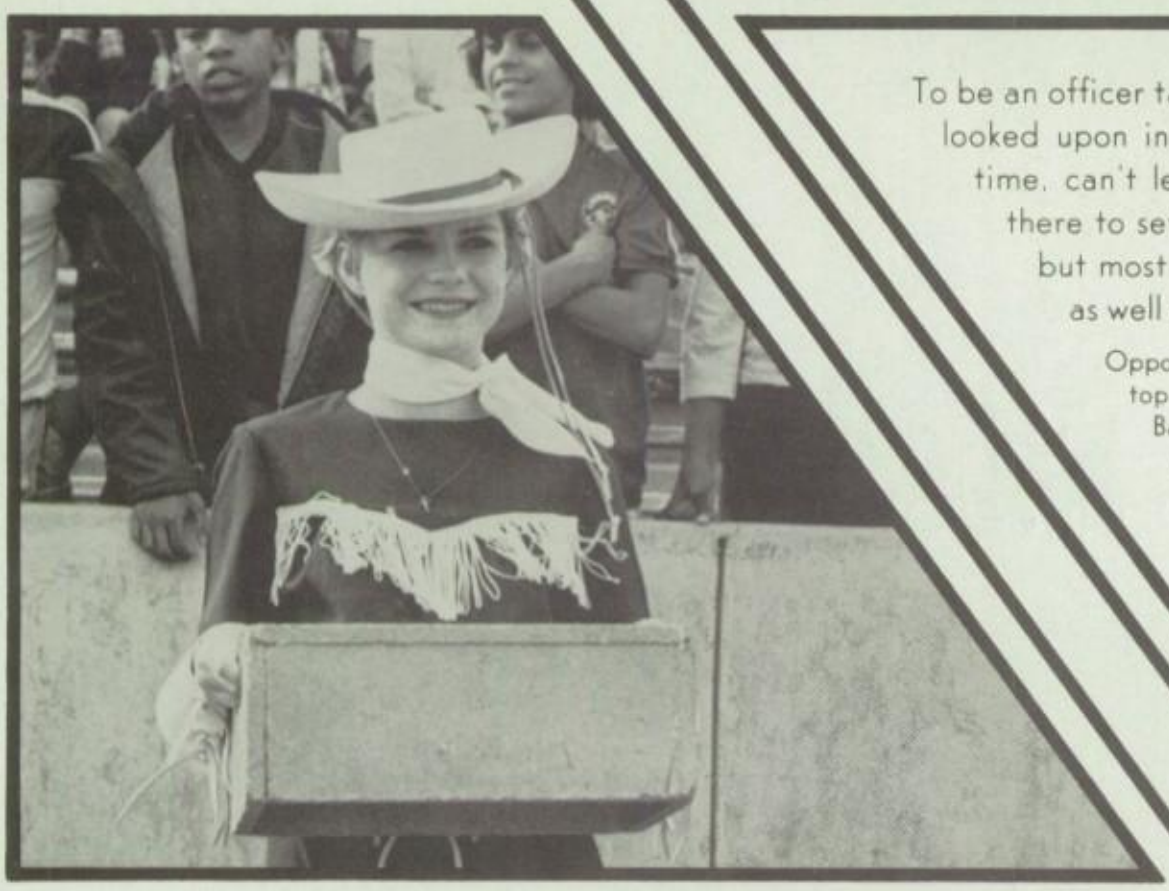
It Takes Dedication



To be an officer takes more than just smiles. She is a person who is looked upon in many ways. She must be a leader, arrive on time, can't let friends keep her from doing her job, she is there to set an example, and show perfection all the time, but most of all she has to be able to handle her position as well as love it more than anyone could.

Many years have passed since the first "one" was made at U.I.L. marching contest. The 78-79 marching band continues the tradition for the sixteenth consecutive year. With a feeling of love and care for others through the long hours of practice many friends are made. The memories of these achievements will stay with us forever.

That Marches With Pride

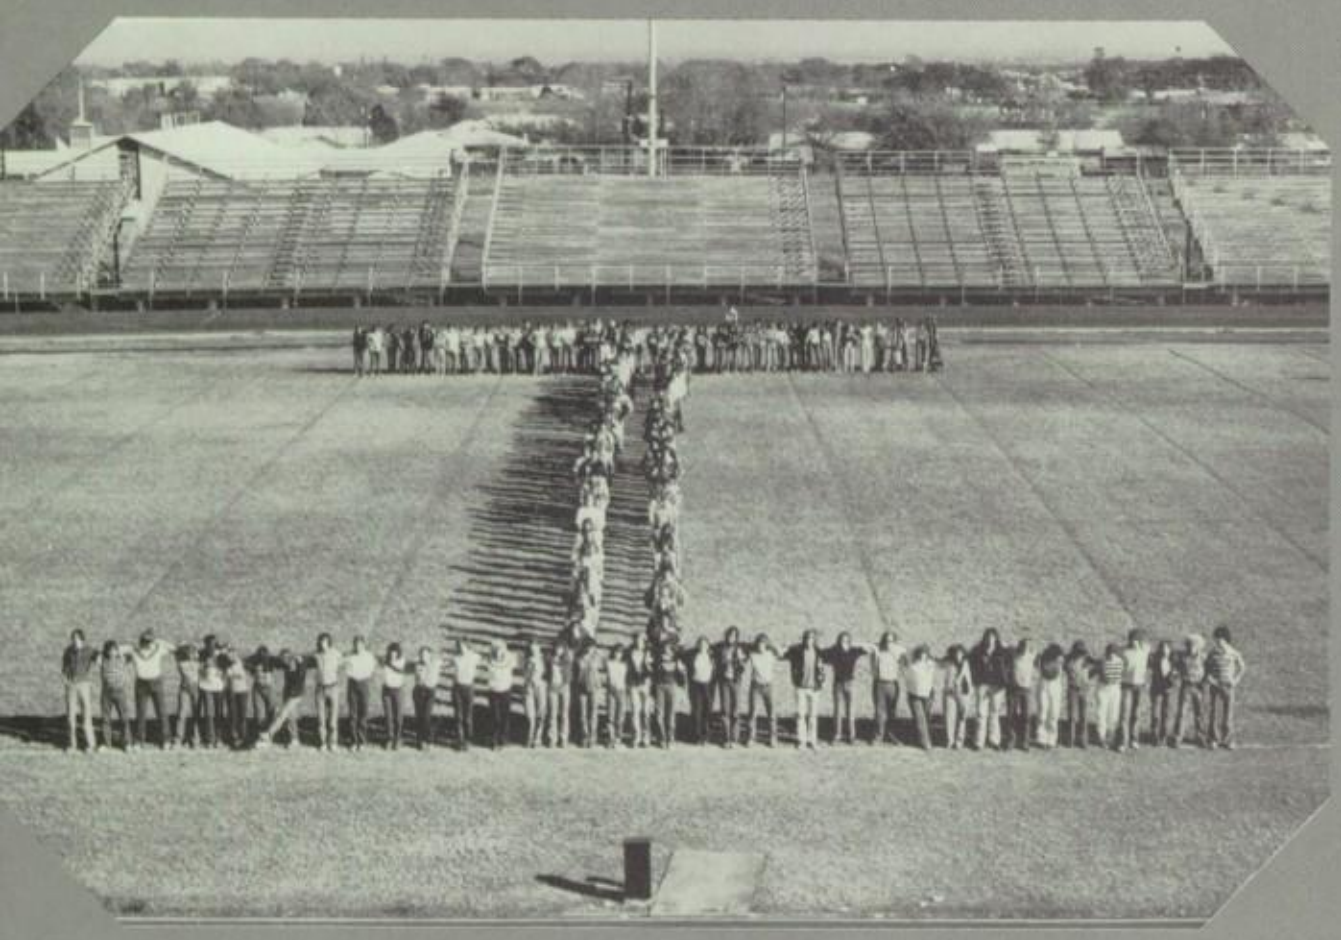
PRIDE

Pride quickens the heart
Fools that fear dedication
Shrink from the word
For they will accomplish nothing

Pride breeds love
Fools that hate
Destroy the unity of love
For they will distract from accomplishment

Pride goes on
With the absence of such fools
As it has in the past, with love
As it will in the future, with dedication

Bruce Dunphy



Traditions are a big part of the LHS Band. No performance would be complete without singing the Lord's Prayer and the school song. The Freshmen dread the day they play the fight song in the cafeteria. And who would think of going to contest without wearing a glove inside out on the right hand. These traditions (and many more) make being in the band an unforgettable experience.

Opposite Page: Sabra Booth, Ken Dunphy, Dave Eastman, Jan Ferris, and Cindy Hammer have pride, while Mark Sessumes, Julie Boenker, Lori Hagman, Lisa Menking, and Erica Bridgewater anticipate their performance. Kobey Millsap does his share as the band cheers on the team. All the band students tell who's number one.

Traditions Carry on

Marching on

The band is a group of people working together to accomplish the goals set before them. This unit is only as strong as its weakest member. Many people think the band only performs during football season, but it gives concerts and competes in UIL solo and ensemble contest. The band also has concert contest in February to complete sweepstakes competition.

Opposite Page: Frank Hadda, Mike Mullis, Tinker Fletcher, Brad Fenley, and Dennis O'Banion, Dana Thompson, Cathy Turner, Nita Heath, Cindy Saunders, Debbie Debrucq, Lisa Grimes, and Lori Bradford.

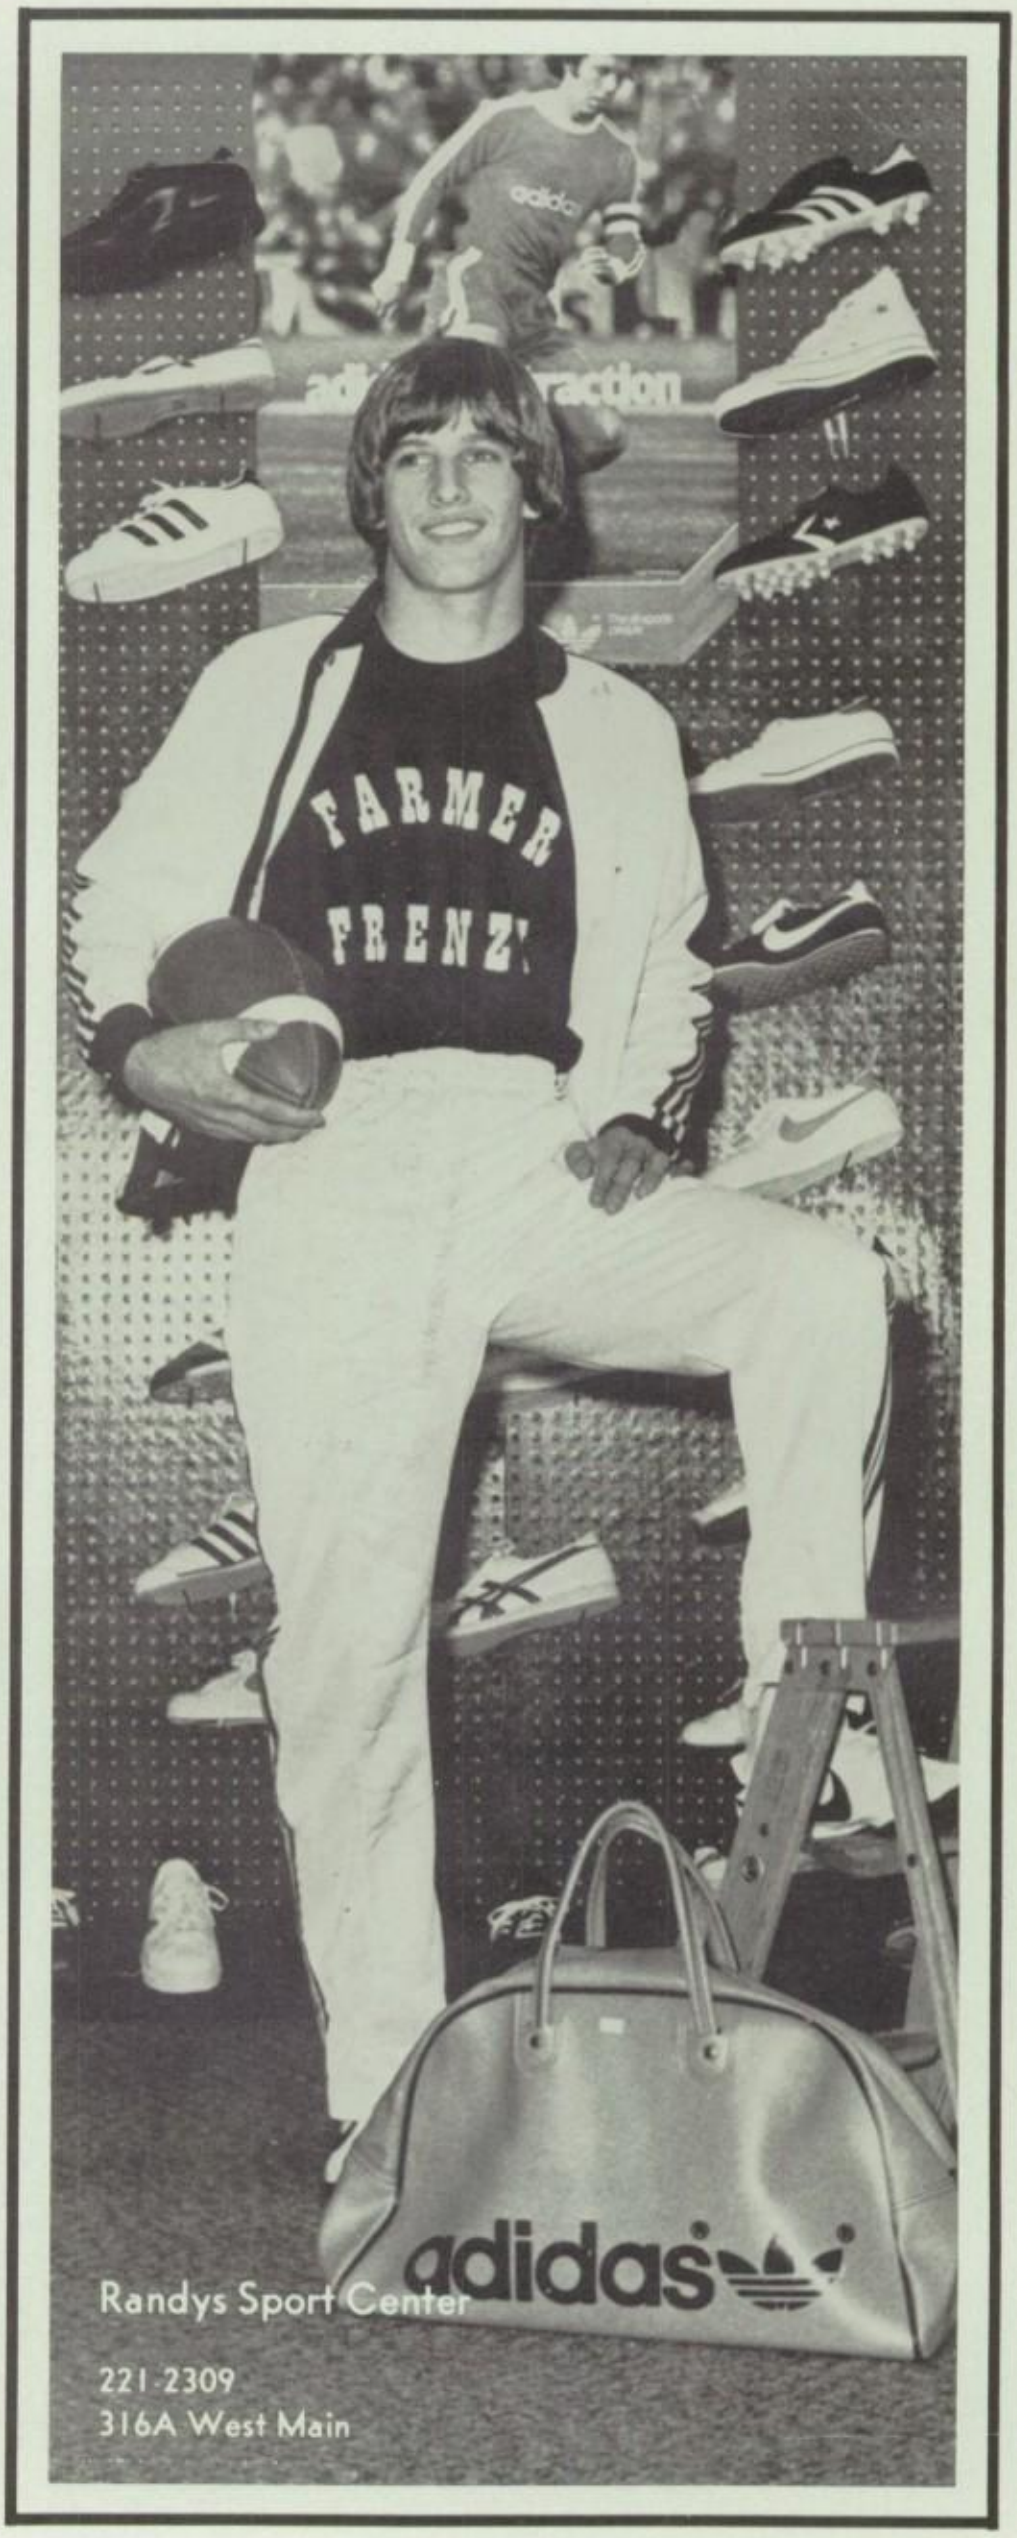
If one word could describe the 1978 Farmer football season, the only one that comes close is unbelievable. That's what the Farmers showed from the opening unbelievable win over Duncanville to the closing unbelievable loss to Odessa Permian. Things happened that never happened before of at least for a long time to the Farmers, who overcome so many obstacles that one wouldn't believe Lewisville would win the district championship and finish with a fine 9-2 record.

From 2-8 to 9-1, Not Bad!

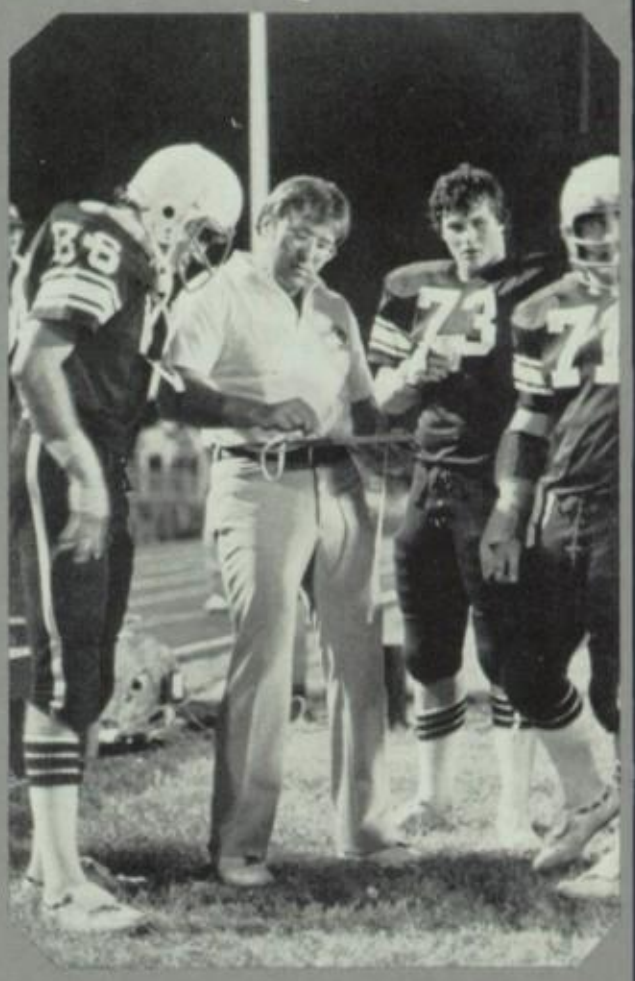
Lewisville started out with three quick wins over Duncanville, Richardson, and Arlington Bowie; averaging a massive 37 points per game while giving away only 9. But, the Bowie game was fatal to the Farmers as Eddie Tillman ended up with torn ligaments, keeping him from 4 weeks action and Freddie Wells was out with a bruised thigh. Going into the Arlington game, the Farmers were ranked 11th in the state but with 2 backs out, the offensive punch was left solely to Dale Brown and the offensive line. It wasn't enough as the Colts broke big plays to defeat Lewisville 31-14. But they never gave up and came back to beat Bishops Lynch 42-21 and a 6815 smashing of R. L. Turner gave the Farmers that much needed confidence going into the Wichita Falls High game. The Coyotes had all they could handle as the Farmers continued winning and came out on 34-8, to set up the show down with Wichita Falls Rider.

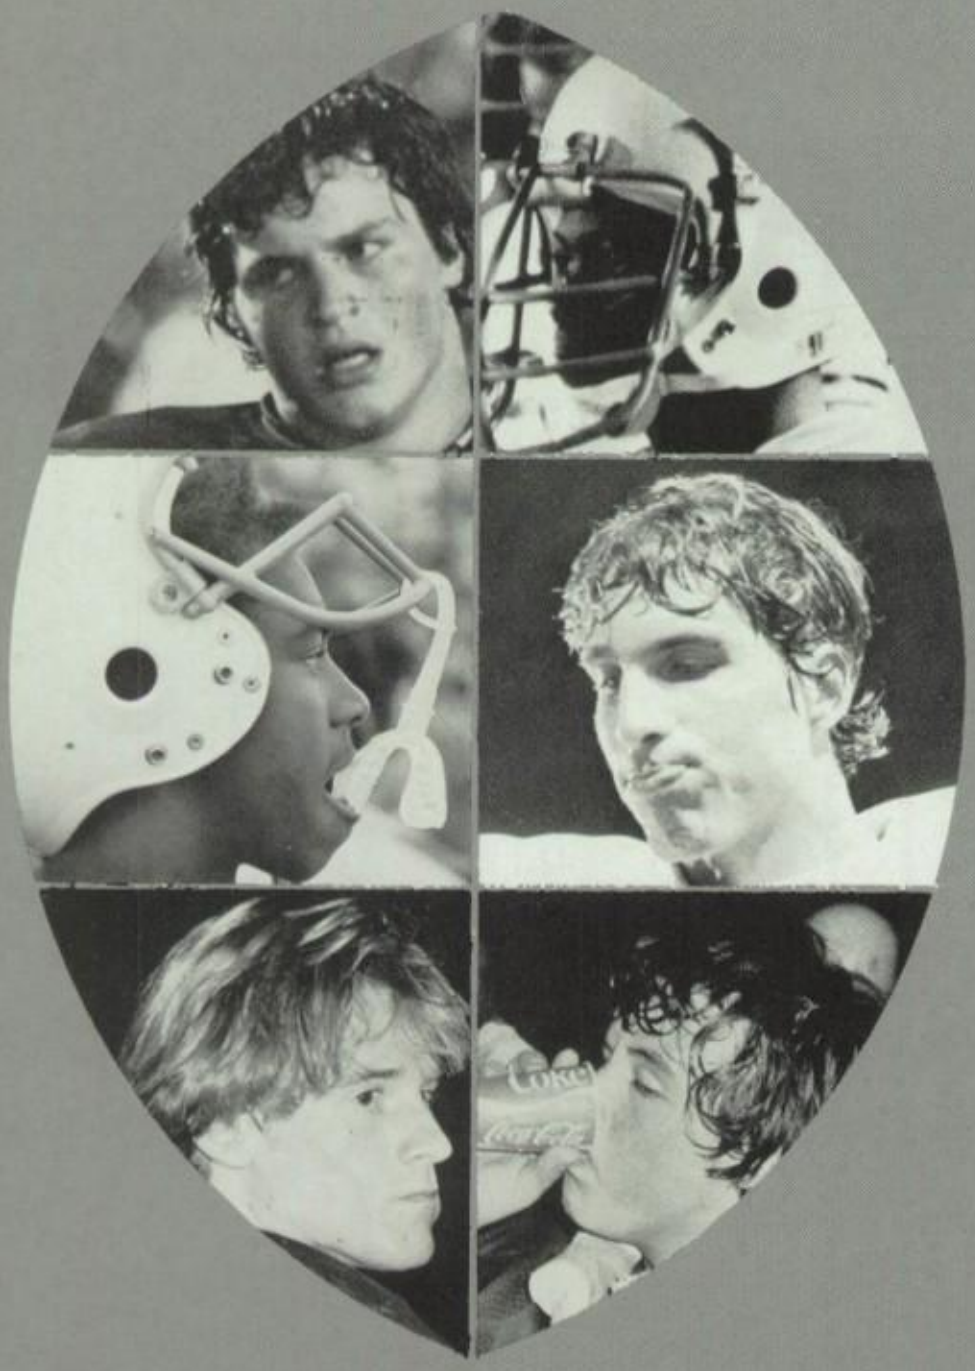
Eddie Tillman finds a hole (top left) as the crowd came back despite the weather (top right). Curt Odneal seems unsure of the outcome (middle left) as Coach Smith and his son celebrate when the Farmers beat Rider 13-9. (middle right) The defense closes in for the kill (bottom).

Different expressions describe the pep rally as Garcia returned after his near fatal accident. Curt Odneal is caught horsing around (top). The defense mauls the quarterback (top middle) as the offense drives (middle) and scores (bottom)!



All In a Day's Work





The game with Rider would decide who would win it all. The Farmers came through and took another one. Two long touchdown runs in the first quarter was all that was needed. However, just before the game, news reached the Farmers that Jesse Garcia had been in a near fatal accident. That, coupled with the return and quick departure of Eddie Tillman, didn't leave the Farmers with much optimism. But the stubborn Farmer defense played superb as they led Lewisville to a 13-9 victory.

Robert Lockett sacks the runner as Jeff Cantrell and Greg Carrera close in (opposite left). Coach Brittain goes over the offense (opposite right) while Tillman is carried off the field after a super effort against Rider (opposite bottom). The faces of Scott Marshall, Anthony Champion, Mike McCloyn, Jeff Shoemake, Robert Lockett, and Jeff Cantrell are shown as the Farmers continued to roll (opposite bottom left). Farmers celebrate after the win over Rider (bottom).

A Team That Refused to Lose

A week after the Rider game, the Farmers clinched it with a win over Newman-Smith 31-6. The dream of the district Championship belonged to them. The newly crowned champions finally made it clear who was best as they rolled over rival Denton in the season's finale. Now on to the playoffs. The Farmers traveled to Abilene to take on mighty Odessa Permian. As it turned out, they weren't as mighty as some thought. Lewisville led 7-0 going into the final five minutes and the feeling of an upset was there. But . . .

Almost, But Not Quite

. . . luck plays a big part in football and this day "Mojo" had it. On fourth down, the Panthers scored on a "hail Mary" pass that broke the Farmer's backs. The hopes and dreams of a state championship were shattered as Permian was leading in penetration and later scored again; winning 17-7. Tears flowed in the locker room. The season was over. But the Farmers had done something few thought they could do. They had won 9 games, but more importantly, the hearts of many Farmer fans. Other teams respected the Farmers and for once they were the team to beat. Many years will pass but few seasons will be remembered more than this one. They started a new tradition of excellence. They won district. That can never be taken away from them. Hats off to the 1978-79 Fighting Farmers, for they shall be remembered in all their glory. And don't you forget it.

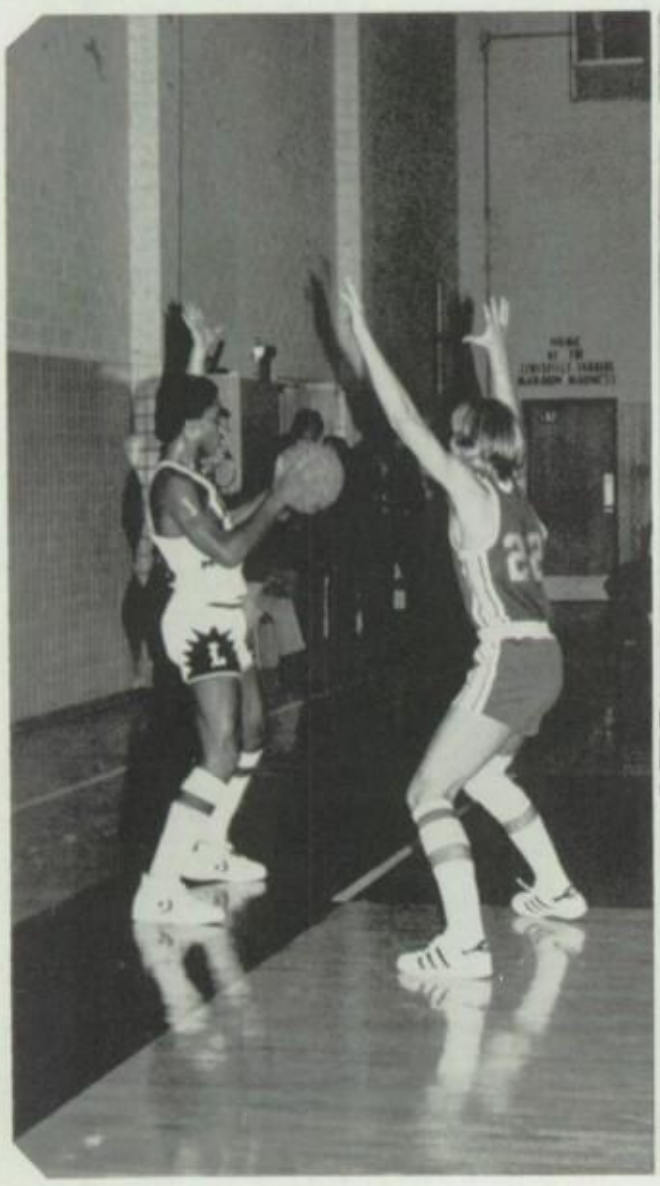
Lewisville Basketball



Winning Makes It Easy

Pressure Makes It Fun

The Farmers ended pre-season with an 11-6 mark and three tournament trophies. After 10 days of bad weather they were ready for district. Although the first half of district play ended with Lewisville on top of a 3-2 record, it wasn't what the team had hoped for, but that's why they play two halves.

Farmers End Year With 13-13 Record

The second half of district got started with a narrow 62-67 loss to R. L. Turner. However, this seemed to set the tone for the remaining district games as the farmers went 0-5 the second half. The Farmers, for the first time in 4-A competition, were actually in the running for the district title and three of the teams they beat in pre-season went on to win their districts and compete in state competition. But more importantly, the team stayed together and played together and that's the name of the game.

FARMERETTE

Girls Basketball is a tradition at LHS. With back-to-back district titles and a trip to the Regional meet behind them, the '79 team was clearly facing a challenge. In addition to the pressure of continuing a tradition, the '79 season also marked a big change in the rules. With a change to full-court play, the game has become fast-paced and even more exciting. Coach Peggy Tate's girls agree it's a lot more work, but also a lot more fun.

The starting line for the '78-'79 Farmerettes are (top, left to right) 52, Debbie James; 24, Billie Chambers; and Coach Tate; (opposite page), 22, Sandra McCloyn; 42, Mayris McKinney; and 54, Gwen Jenkins.

With back-to-back district titles the past two years the '79 Farmerettes were faced with a tough act to follow. But for this team, the challenge just made the game more fun. And fun it was — for fans and girls alike. Even the play-off loss to Turner for the district title couldn't dim the excitement of Farmerette basketball.

Although the swim team is a fairly new sport at Lewisville High School, it is becoming more popular every year. The swim team was busy this year raising money for new swim suits, new sweats, and new lane ropes.

The early morning practices and all the hard work, at times, seemed to be all for nothing. But competing in the meets and winning made it all worthwhile.

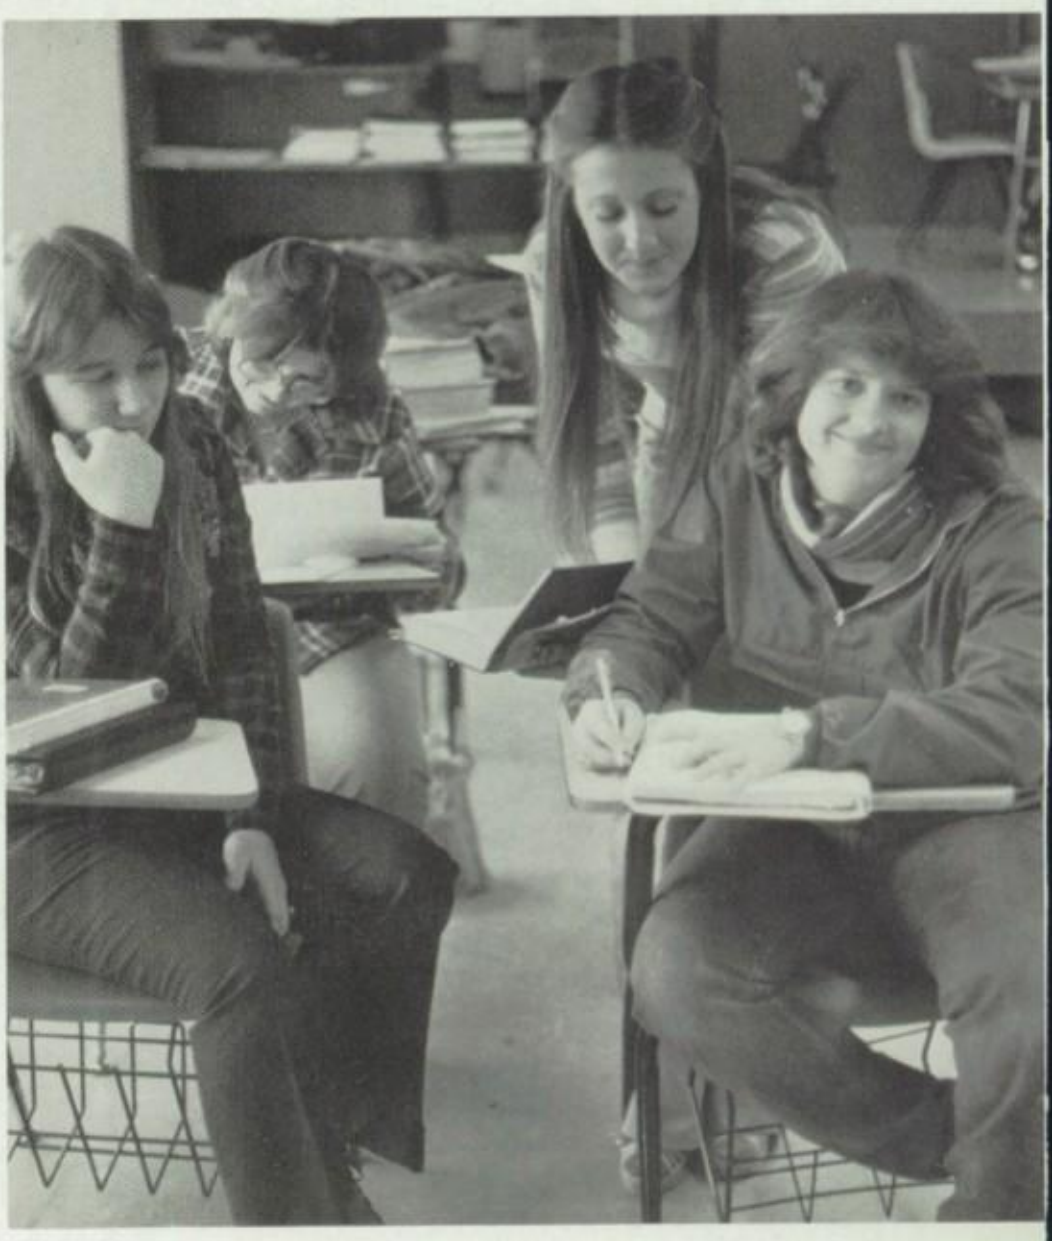
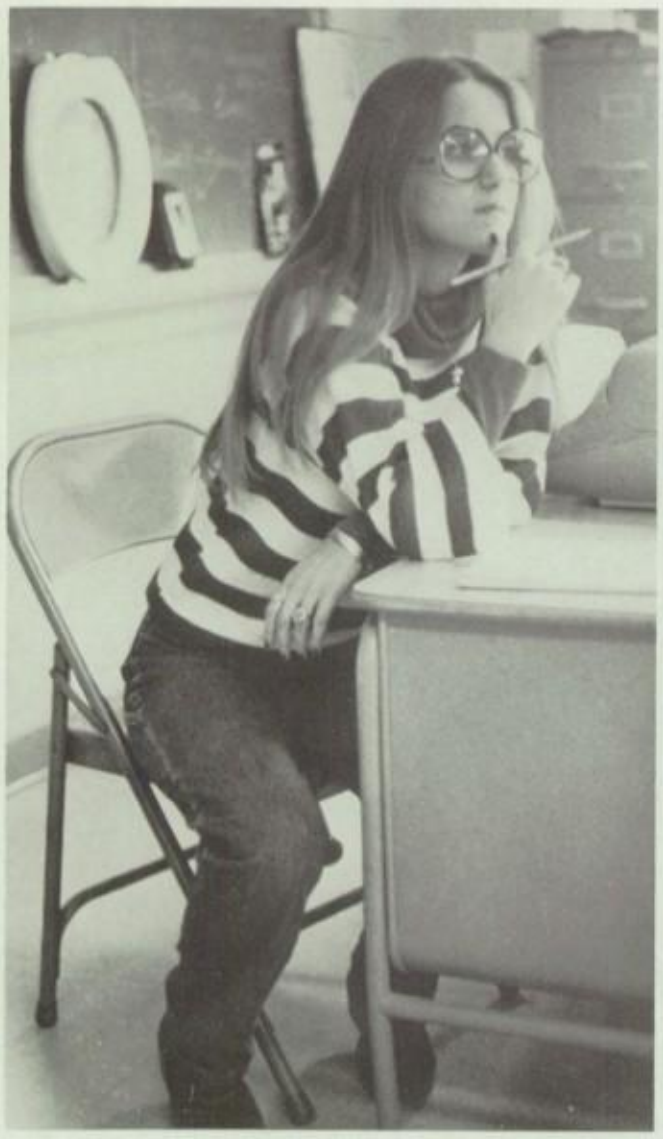
The Farmers' Harvest

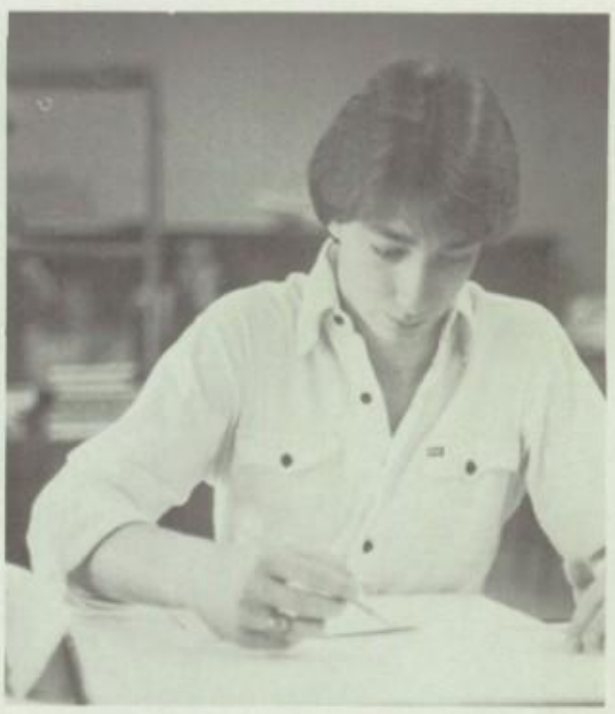
To be on the newspaper staff, you have to be part writer, part con artist, and part clown. You have to like dealing with people and most of all, staffers must be willing to work. (With 25 weeks of deadlines to meet, there's plenty of that.) But to really be good — you have to love it, to feel it. Maybe that's why the "Harvest" is one of the best high school papers around.

The 1978-1979 Farmer's Harvest Staff is: First Row (l-r): M. Thomason — editor, A. Buck — editor, M. Head — editor. Second Row: A. Aynesworth, G. Anderson, T. Parker, M. Powell, T. Smith, M. Moseley, S. Hawk, S. Cassidy, R. Reynolds, C. Henderson, and L. Davis. Third Row: K. Smith, K. McDonald, K. Collinsworth, S. Keeler, R. Gnas, E. Dake, B. Amaro, A. Elliot, J. Henson, S. Scofield, S. Bimmerle, P. Hunt, A. Wootton, R. Mills, C. Hagood, R. Marchant and C. McNutt. Fourth Row: T. Polzer, L. Peterson, L. Dean, R. Odum, D. Milliet, J. Peterson, B. Thom, M. Fillingham.



SR Reporters Barbara Thom, Jody Peters, Missy Blackstone and Stacy Scofield prepare their weekly copy. It must be Wednesday (or is it Thursday) again.





Editors for the '78-'79 Harvest are (l-r) Michelle Thomason (news page, literary magazine), Maggie Head (sports page, news page), and Alex Buck (sports page, sports columnist).

With Uncle Butch Lamb's group and Tim Jones' 4th period, the staff has almost doubled this year. (above) Regan Osteen and Dale Maynard look at an old paper. The Advertising Staff: Jama Hinson, Pam Hunt — manager, and Anita Wootton. Who says these three can't do two things at once. They can chew gum and ____, ____, ____ — well two of them can anyway.

Farmer Staff 1979

The '79 Farmer Staff feels it is "Time" for LHS to have a special yearbook. From great sports illustrations to the "People" who make this a year to remember, it's all here. Some times were sad, some were glad and many were "Mad", but they all belong to "Us".
